

A Sunday away message with no next opening is not a booked visit

An away message is not a next opening.

A visitor can read your Sunday away message and still find no time you can come

They will not guess your next opening.

3/9

Put the next real opening in that same away message

One time. In the message they already have.

Name who holds that time

An away message is not a person.

5/9

If you are booked, say the next date there

Do not hide a full calendar.

6/9

Test the message yourself in a private window

Read what they read.

Do not add a second page to hold Sunday

Fix the message you already send.
